1997-98 Brian Heal

Despite Ted's attempt to obtain this trophy by yet another exhibition of his ability to launch himself headlong into murky waters, this time in Ireland, the award was given unanimously to Brian Heal for his total inability to put one foot in front of the other on Mayday.

1998-99 Ted Heath

For no better reason than "vengeance is sweet"

1999-00 Terry Phillips

Various members received points throughout the year. Alan for insulting Woodchurch Squire. Jim dropping kit. Squire pissed at Broadstairs unable to lead the side but turned out it was part of his job description gives him 3rd place. Rod is second for ordering beer in Victory's name, for points for not inviting anyone to the party and finally more points for failing to sign the cheque Which is how we came to know about it.

..given to Terry whose exploits at Ripley are legendary (phoning his wife to ask his way back to the hall and losing his kit).

2011-12 Barni Fry

No specific reason recorded

2012-13 Chris Parkinson

For being mistaken for a Woman, whilst in a restaurant in Malta.

2013-14 Dickie Hambridge

The first points were awarded to Barni Fry, for awarding last years prize to a member that only turned up infrequently. May the 1st points awarded to the squire for getting a side up before the music is ready, the odd further points for drinking halves, etc. 10 points were awarded to somebody for drinking orange juice, but we can't work out who. I put myself in the lead for playing Photo skittles on the Isle of Wight, very few other occurrences scored more than a couple of points, maybe Simon on the last Thursday of the season, running round to find me to report that Morgan was wearing what can only be described as an adult babygrow instead of a shirt, 5 points to Morgan, 10 to Simon for splitting on him. There is, however, one day this year that stands out; Rod's Daughter's wedding.

Firstly the coach company get a few points, as the coach broke down on its way to pick us up, but they did send out two 54 seater coaches to pick up 16 people.

I'd like to give Rod's sister-in-law one for tucking her skirt into her knickers to dance with us. We passed a couple of hours playing water bottle cricket, winner Mark Taylor (23 runs). Everybody gets a few points for leaving money in the whip that Rod had so generously provided (it was topped up by Rod).

But the highlight of the day (possibly the season), unfortunately only in front of about 8 of us, Performing a forward roll down the steps of the coach, and paso dobleing onto the pavement and then a total collapse into the bus shelter wins Dickie Hambridge this year's fart of the year award.

2014-15 Dave Shields

No specific reason recorded

2015-16 Jeremy Cooke

For forgetting to bring his socks to the Hidden Past event and dancing without them on.

2016-17 John Bartlett

3 or 4 members were in the running for the Fart of the year.

One person stood out on Mayday, an unsocial pisshead, someone split beer over his wife. Martyn Constable has a "Tiss" on St Georges Day. Also, for sending a visitor to the wrong pub.

Brian Heal on the Thursday night at the Phoenix and the Sirlion of Beef for losing his bike keys only to find them in his pocket.

John Bartlett for his actions at the Victory Ale by taking away the written words of a song away from a member of Sompting Morris during a song.

2017-18 Andrew Kennedy

for a multitude of misdemeanours that occurred at Saddleworth

2018-19 Morgan Davies

for losing everything from his tankard on multiple occasions on the same day, his rail ticket between the booking office and the barrier and countless other acts of stupidity.
